The U.S. National Institute of Health recognizes that acupuncture improves the body's ability to heal itself by stimulating specific pressure points called acupoints. Acupoints are part of a complex electrical pathway known as the Meridian System that carries energy and information throughout the body. Acupoints can be triggered with needles, pressure, heat and electrical stimulation, clearing pathways and improving overall health and wellness. Using cutting-edge research, Tesla Wave Body SIMs™ (Synergy Infused Modulator) store electromagnetic waves with specific frequencies to safely stimulate acupoints. They are drug-free, chemical-free and non-habit forming. Tesla Wave Body SIMs are easy to use, produce quick results, and have no side effects.
